Project Title: Chanel

I want to tell the story of Chanel and highlight some significant moments they had as a famous luxury fashion brand but also emphasize its historical significance. I would like to build a website that shows different aspects of the brand through multiple pages. Some pages will have a focus on information and some pages will have a focus on the fashion side of Chanel. Ideally, I would like to have some pages that have a gallery of images of their different clothing lines and products. The top navigation will offer different categories of information and content regarding Chanel.
